Tourist Information

Pisa is often identified with the Leaning Tower and the Piazza dei Miracoli, but it is also Piazza dei Cavalieri, Chiesa della Spina, S. Matteo Museum, Opera del Duomo Museum and the hometown of Galileo Galilei. The Pisa Congress Center is located within walking distance from the town centre and from the central railway station. Moreover, it is quickly and easily reachable from the Pisa International Airport, very well served by low-cost air companies. Late summer weather in Pisa is usually not too hot but still excellent for short pre- and post conference "health promoting" holidays at the beach or in one of the marvellous sites of Tuscany. The proximity with many historical sites including Florence (1 hour trip), Lucca (20 minutes trip), Siena (1 hour and 30 minutes trip) and Arezzo (2 hours trip) and with multiple recreational opportunities such as the beaches of Tirrenia (20 minutes trip) and Versilia (30 minutes trip), the marble quarries of the Apuan Alps (1 hour trip), the Abetone mountain with its famous spring water (1 hour and 30 minutes trip), make up an extraordinary complement to the European Health Psychology Society conference which will be hosted by one of the most ancient universities of Italy.

UNIVERSITÀ DI PISA

Welcome

The European Health Psychology Society has chosen Pisa for its 23rd Annual Conference which will be held from the 23rd to the 26th September 2009. The aim of the meeting is to link up the theoretical knowledge of health psychology to psychological interventions in health and illness. Scientific research in the field of health has an excellent and long lasting history in Pisa and is deeply rooted in medical sciences. The main objectives of the meeting are to offer advanced level lectures, presentation of new findings and research in different areas of health psychology.

The conference will provide space for contributors and delegates to exchange new ideas, research data and projects in significant conceptual and operative models that are also relevant to health psychology practice and education.

The stimulating environment that makes Pisa the golden gate of Tuscany constitutes the perfect frame for such an important event, that year after year testifies the continuous growth of the European Health Psychology Society.

It is both our privilege and pleasure to invite and welcome you to Pisa in September 2009 for the 23rd EHPS Annual Conference.
